

DEVALERA STAND ON PEACE TERMS SPLITS SINN FEIN

Break Is Feared When Dail Eireann Meets Next Wednesday.

PRESIDENT SEEKS TO DEFEAT TREATY

Griffith, Founder Of Sinn Fein, Accepted Terms, Signs Treaty.

Dublin, Dec. 9.—Factional strife is threatened in the ranks of the Sinn Fein as a result of the Irish peace agreement. Already two factions have grown up and fears were expressed today that there may be a break when dail eireann meets next Wednesday. However, strong agencies are at work to effect a compromise.

The dissensions came to a head when Eamon De Valera issued a statement to the Irish people saying that the terms of the peace agreement are in conflict with the views of the majority.

De Valera said he would work against ratification of the treaty in the Sinn Fein parliament next week.

On the other hand Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein and "vice president of the Irish republic," accepted the terms and signed the treaty. The Griffith faction is supported by the powerful group of leaders in the Irish Republican army headed by Michael Collins, "commander in chief."

Griffith takes the view that he is in honor bound to support the treaty as he signed it. The other Sinn Fein signers were Collins, E. J. Duggan, chief liaison officer of the Irish Republican army; R. C. Barton, minister of economics in the Sinn Fein cabinet; and G. Gavan Duffy, Sinn Fein envoy to Rome.

De Valera is supported by two members of the Sinn Fein (or dail eireann) cabinet—Cathal Burgha, minister of defense, and Austin Stack, minister of home affairs.

The sentiment of the press is that all the Sinn Fein leaders were bound by the signatures of the Irish envoys at London.

This city has the appearance of a great clearing war camp. Hundreds of Sinn Fein prisoners, just released from detention camps, are arriving on every train. Most of them are badly clad and shod. They excited a great deal of sympathy as they marched through the streets.

CONDEMNED "BAD MAN" BREAKS OUT OF DEATH HOUSE, FREES OTHERS

Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 9.—Taking with him six condemned prisoners, all armed, Tom Slaughter, famous Arkansas bad man, broke out of the death house at the penitentiary here today, and in an automobile, purloined from the warden's garage, is speeding toward the Oklahoma border. Posses are in pursuit.

Slaughter covered a guard who had entered his cell with an automatic pistol, took his keys and revolver and locked him up.

He then freed five negroes and one white man and, proceeding to the warden's house, locked up the warden's wife and mother while his companions ransacked the home for arms. The jail breakers were not armed.

The jail breakers left in the warden's automobile after stripping the tires from another car.

Winona Children Healthiest Found In Entire County

The children of the district about the village of Winona in Butler township are in the best condition physically, as a group, of any who have come under the observation of County Health Commissioner R. M. Schwartz in more than two years.

This statement was made by Dr. Schwartz Thursday, after he had visited the Friends school in Winona, conducting an examination of 33 pupils who attended school there. "It is the best school physically, ever examined by this department in the two years we have looked after public schools," Dr. Schwartz stated.

Peace Treaty Party Wins

London, Dec. 9.—The Irish peace treaty party headed by Arthur Griffiths and Michael Collins won a dramatic victory today over the opponents of the Irish peace treaty.

It was accepted as a foregone conclusion this afternoon by officials in both London and Dublin that the peace treaty would be ratified by dail eireann.

Eamon D. Valera, who issued an appeal to the Irish nation last night to oppose the settlement, is understood to have surrendered leadership of dail eireann to Griffith.

NEW AGREEMENT IN PACIFIC NEXT STEP AT PARLEY

Draw Up Set Of Principles To Govern Fortifications Of Pacific.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Far-reaching developments in the Washington conference, which will settle the policies of the Pacific for years to come, hung suspended today on the American end of the trans-oceanic cable, awaiting the word from Tokyo that will permit their publication.

No authoritative hint comes from American quarters concerning these developments. America's spokesmen continued today to maintain the same impenetrable silence they have observed for two weeks, but in British, French and Japanese official sources no effort is made to conceal the belief that the main work of the conference has been accomplished.

According to British, French and Japanese spokesmen, here is what can be expected within the next few days, perhaps early in the new week:

Announcement of the final acceptance by Japan of the 5-5-3 naval ratio.

Announcement of the formation of a new world agreement in the Pacific under which Great Britain, Japan, France and the United States agree to respect each other's territorial possessions.

Declaration of a set of principles governing the fortifications of the Pacific, the effect of which will be to preserve the status quo of Japan and the United States in these waters.

The full extent of the reported agreement on Pacific fortifications has not been made clear, but it is reliably reported that the undertaking involves a mutual agreement by the United States and Japan not to add to their Pacific fortifications except on mainlands of the two countries. This would make the agreement apply specifically to Guam, the Philippines and American Samoa, on part of the United States and on Japan's part to the numerous islands which have come under Japanese control.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY FORMED BY FRIENDS

A group of young women from the First Friends church assembled Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Raymond Ingram, East High, and organized a young women's missionary society. It will be known as The Ruth circle. These are the officers:

President, Mrs. Raymond Ingram; vice president, Miss Theima Long; secretary, Miss Pearl A. Walker; treasurer, Miss Maude Lewis.

The circle will meet once a month on the first Friday evening and Misses Bessie White and Mildred Ward were appointed to arrange a program for a meeting Friday evening Jan. 6.

A social period was enjoyed with music a feature. A lunch of Christmas appointments was served and the hostess was assisted in serving by her sister, Miss Esther Gallagher.

SODALITY ADOPTS NEW NAME AS RETREAT ENDS

The young women's retreat at St. Paul's Catholic church closed Thursday evening with a sermon on "Behold Thy Mother," by Rev. Cyril Mohr, Cleveland, who has preached the sermons at the retreat which opened Sunday.

The Young Ladies sodality of this church has changed its name to the Immaculate Conception sodality. Fifty new members were received at this service, which was marked by a large attendance.

PACKERS WANT NO HELP

Washington, Dec. 9.—The large packers have indicated to the government that they do not desire government intervention in the packing strikes now in progress but prefer to "fight it out," it was learned today.

British Countess Takes In Washing!

The Countess of Clonmell, who is conducting a laundry in London and making a success of it. She opened the laundry merely "to have something to do." Lady Clonmell is the wife of Earl Clonmell, an officer of the Royal Horse artillery. She is popular in court circles.

Now Youngstown Wonders Whether Oles Is Planning To Buy Or Sell The City

Youngstown, Dec. 9.—Is Mayor-elect George L. Oles going to buy or sell Youngstown?

This is the question on the lips of many here following the receipt by City Auditor Arthur Williams of the following letter from Mr. Oles, who with his wife and children is sojourning at Miami, Fla.:

"As you know I will take the office of mayor on Jan. 1 and I want a thorough invoice of the city of Youngstown ready to be presented to me on that date. I want everything in it, mixed detail, just as if I were going to buy the city. I want to know how much money the city of Youngstown owes, who they owe it to and when it is due.

"I want to know who owns the city of Youngstown. I want to know where the money is coming from to pay the bills.

"I want to know what stocks we have on hand, such as horse feed and supplies, gasoline in tanks, stationery and ink and lead pencils, also the amount of coal—and DO NOT GET TO STATE THE AMOUNT OF CASH IN THE BANK."

"Now the above is what I want. The question is—how much am I going to get? Kindly advise me by return mail to this city what I may expect."

Mayor-elect Oles won his election a month ago after a most unique campaign of newspaper advertising. He defeated both Republican and Democratic candidates who had strong political machines backing them.

The twentieth annual Farmers institute at Damascus closed a two-day session Thursday afternoon with a school session at which Dr. Mary Anderson and C. R. Wagner, state speakers, and Prof. J. L. Gray, Salem, spoke. Miss Elizabeth McCune, Salem, sang a solo. Officers elected are:

President, Roy Rouse; vice president, J. G. Gilbert; secretary, Mrs. Nellie Jones; treasurer, Thomas Warrington; lady correspondent, Mrs. M. J. Windle; program committee, Mrs. Lorin Stanley, Mrs. E. Y. Gamble, Curtis Santee, Roy Fouts, Mrs. Nellie Jones; exhibit committee, Everett Jones, Mrs. Clyde Pettit, Mrs. Carl Hobson, Foster Hall, Mrs. Clifford Israel, Adelbert Greenamyer, C. G. Long and J. G. Gilbert.

ASK ALUMNI TO DONATE PARCELS FOR CARNIVAL

The parcel post committee of the Salem high school Christmas carnival announces that the alumni are not responding very well with parcels solicited to be sold at the carnival. About 50 cards were sent out to the alumni asking for parcels of at least 15 cents value to be donated to the carnival and sold at a parcel post window for the benefit of the scholarship fund.

This is a new feature for the carnival this year but so far only about 25 parcels have come in and committee fears it will not even make expenses.

Some packages have come in from Maryland and New York and other places, however, and it is hoped that before the carnival, Dec. 16 and 17, many others will arrive.

Settlement Of Milk Strike Is Predicted

Cleveland, Dec. 9.—A settlement of the milk strike, practically upon terms dictated by the TellingBelle Vernon company is expected to be ratified when members of the milk drivers' union meet tonight, following the intermediation of a committee of city council.

Such strikers as have not engaged in acts of violence during the strike may apply for reinstatement. Indemnity of unions shall not be discriminated against, under the proposed terms. The wage scale is the same as that offered by the TellingBelle Vernon company which precipitated the strike.

Pupils To Become Health Crusaders In Seal Campaign

Children's Parade Saturday Night To Stir Interest In Sale Here.

HIGHEST BIDDER TO CLAIM FIRST SEAL

Talks In Schools, Theaters And Churches Arranged For Next Week.

Children of the Columbia st school will become health crusaders Saturday night when they parade through the business section of the city to create interest in the annual sale of Christmas seals, which opens here next Monday.

The youngsters will assemble at 6:30 p. m. at the Community house on Depot and, garbed in effective costumes, will march through the streets, disbanding at 7:30 p. m. at the corner of Main st and Broadway, where Mayor John W. Post will auction off the first seal to the highest bidder.

Spirited bidding is anticipated, for the successful bidder will have the distinction of making the first contribution to the united effort of health authorities in combating the spread of tuberculosis. In Columbus the first seal was sold for $509. While that much cannot be expected here, public health officials hope to have the bids run up, for the extent of the health work in Salem will depend largely on the outcome of the seal sale.

With the future of the health work at stake, Miss Grace Donsing, public health nurse, and W. H. Matthews, chairman of the Christmas Seal committee, are mapping out plans for a systematic and intensive campaign beginning next week and continuing until Christmas. Tuberculosis Sunday will be observed next Sunday, when ministers of every church in the city will call attention to the purposes of the sale and urge a hearty response.

Next week other efforts will be made to keep the sale before the public. The program includes talks in the public schools and in the theaters. The Rotary and Kiwanis clubs

$430 Damage Awarded For Killing Woman

Lisbon, Dec. 9.—A $430 damage verdict for the killing of a woman by an automobile, was returned by a jury in common pleas court Thursday.

John E. Armstrong had filed suit against George B. Patterson and others to recover $10,000 damages for the death of Bertha L. Armstrong, who was instantly killed while walking along the East Liverpool-Wellsville road on the evening of Nov. 21, two years ago, when she was struck by an automobile driven by Cletus Patterson. Mrs. Armstrong was walking to her home from Frail's grocery, near where the Camp Ground road intersects with the East Liverpool and Wellsville road, and was carrying a babe and leading a six-year-old child. She heard an automobile approaching from behind and stepped to the right side of the road to allow it to pass, as there was no sidewalk, and only an embankment along the side of the road. It was stated that the automobile had no sooner passed than another came up from the other direction and knocking her down, killed her instantly.

It was claimed that the driver of the machine had a clear view of the road for a distance of 300 feet, and the woman, using ordinary care, could not have avoided the accident.

POLICE ARREST MAN ON LARCENY CHARGE

Thursday night as he stepped off the Stark Electric car from Alliance, Theodore Dennison, colored, was placed under arrest by Officer Gray on a charge of larceny preferred by Jack Weaver, colored, who stated in his charge that Dennison stole $7 from him.

According to police Weaver, who resides in the old Colonial hotel building, missed the money Thursday, this being the second time in two weeks that money has been taken from his room.

The hearing is scheduled in Mayor Post's court at 7 p. m. Friday.

FRENCH ENVOY RESIGNS

SEALS SAVE CHILD LIVES

Christmas seals not only make splendid decorations on your Christmas mail but they stand for practical endeavor.

The funds raised by the seal sale are used to bring home to all of the people a realization of the fact that the white plague can be conquered and a knowledge of how to conquer it.

The Christmas seal is intimately associated with the child victim of tuberculosis. Teaching children health habits that will enable them to resist the disease is the big object of the health force of Ohio.

Every Christmas seal you buy helps to build a wall against this enemy and to protect our children.

ZERO HOUR NEAR FOR OHIO BONUS

Distribution May Provide For Branch Office In Every County.

Columbus, Dec. 9.—The zero hour is nearing for the opening of the drive of Ohio soldier bonus forces for their objective—inauguration of payments of the $20,000,000 adjusted compensation fund to Ohio veterans of the recent World war on Feb. 1.

The zero hour comes Dec. 15 when bids will be received by the state board of sinking fund commissioners for the initial issue of $20,000,000 in bonds, bearing 4½ per cent interest, payable semi-annually, and maturing in 20 equal semi-annual installments the first installment to be paid not later than April 1, 1923.

Of the 243,548 Ohioans enlisted in all branches of service during the World war, it is believed that less than a majority served the maximum 25 months for which adjusted compensation will be paid, at the rate of $10 per month. If this is true the $20,000,000 bond issue will be ample.

Widows, mothers and other heirs of about 10,000 who were killed or who died of disease or wounds, will be entitled to the full allotment of the departed hero in addition to what government war insurance they may be drawing.

Preparing Blanks
Only persons of the rank of captain or below, in the army, and of corresponding rank in the navy and marine corps, are entitled to the bonus.

State Auditor Joseph T. Tracey, who is chairman of the board of state sinking fund commissioners, which has charge of the distribution of the "soldier's bonus" today said that a system will be worked out so that there will be a branch office, or clearing house in each of the 88 county court houses, where application blanks will be furnished and persons will be on hand to aid service men in filling out the requisite papers.

The application blanks now being prepared probably will require a sworn statement as to service and honorable discharge, supported by affidavits of at least two citizens who will certify that the applicant is the person he represents himself to be.

MANUFACTURERS LOAN MONEY FOR NEW MOTOR

A special session of city council will be held at 7 p. m. Friday to pass an ordinance authorizing the expenditure of $2,700 for the purchase of a new motor for the chemical wagon.

Favorable report from the finance committee regarding funds for this action was received Tuesday night at the regular meeting of council when announcement was made that the Manufacturers' association had agreed to advance the money pending the receipt of the city's share of taxes from the county.

The deposed president Diaz of Mexico was part Indian.

CO-OPERATION IS KEYNOTE OF BIG SCHOOL MEETING

Parents Should Aid Teacher In Training Children, Rev. Miller Says.

PROGRAM GIVEN AT FOURTH ST. SCHOOL

English Woman Puts Some Pointed Questions To Authorities.

Many parents visited Fourth st school Thursday afternoon and watched the children at their regular work in the grades. One hundred and twenty-five visitors attended the meeting at 3:15, the subject for discussion being "Co-operation."

Rev. H. L. Miller gave an inspiring and helpful address, asking for co-operation of the parents as the teachers endeavor to train their children to take their place in the community 25 years hence.

Miss Martha Justice, principal of the school, plead with the parents to co-operate by having regular bedtime habits and told how the schools are handicapped when students are kept up at night, attending movies, lodges, church and social affairs.

Several parents took part in the discussion. Mrs. Matthews, who came to Salem recently from England, noted differences between the American and English schools and her talk was most interesting. Among some of the questions presented by Mrs. Matthews were:

"Why do the American schools have such long summer vacations? Why do you have the long vacations in summer instead of in the winter, when children might be kept in and not exposed to the inclement weather? Why do you not have regular medical examinations in the schools? Children should have thorough medical examinations and be compelled to submit to necessary treatment."

Wall Street Bomb Suspect Is Arrested

Omaha, Dec. 9.—Mike Stine, Bulgarian, is under arrest here today and the police are investigating his possible connection with the Wall st explosion of Sept. 16, 1920, in which 34 persons were killed.

Stine was arrested after a note had been brought to the police by a messenger boy asking the police to seek a man answering Stine's description and question him regarding the explosion.

The suspect denied knowledge of the Wall st. tragedy.

CAR UPSETS IN DITCH, OCCUPANTS ARRESTED

A large Studebaker six auto, belonging to a man named Zopaher of Rochester, Pa., was ditched north of Lisbon along the Salem road Thursday evening. Charles Anderson and James McKane were in the machine at the time of the accident and officers report that they were in poor condition to run an auto. The owner has been notified. The auto was turned over on its side and one wheel badly broken. Anderson and McKane are in county jail on a charge of running a car while intoxicated.

Reports Persist That Harmon Will Run For Governor

Cleveland, Dec. 9.—Persistent reports were in circulation in Democratic circles here today that former Gov. Judson Harmon would permit the use of his name as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor next year, and that the Democratic county committee here would meet early in the new year to endorse his candidacy.

Responsible leaders of the party refused to confirm or deny the report. "Wait until the committee meets," was the answer given by Burr S. Gongwar, recognized leader of the party, when asked about the report. It has been generally believed that Gongwar was committed to the political interests of A. V. Donahy, former state auditor, and that he was pledged to a policy of inactivity until Donahy had decided upon his course.

Mendelssohn was unique among musicians in that he never lacked money.

State Police Force
NEW JERSEY'S state police went on duty this week for the first time, a troop of 74 picked men who have been in training at Sea Girt for six months for their task of maintaining order and pursuing criminals in all parts of the state.

For years the need of such a force has been apparent, but its creation has been blocked by labor politicians, who pretend it was to be used against strikers. This powerful opposition was overcome only by the imperative necessity arising from conditions created by modern methods of transportation.

The automobile has proved a boon to criminals. It affords quick passage for thieves from one place to another and means of escape from the scenes of their depredations; and the great number of trucks carrying valuable merchandise have provided new opportunities for highwaymen. The police of small towns have been unable to provide the protection needed under existing circumstances. Effective co-operation among them has been practically impossible, not from lack of zeal and good will, but because of the nature of their organizations. A mobile force, covering the whole state and under one direction, is the only weapon that can be used in present circumstances with hope of success in law enforcement.

Such a force can be successful only if politics is absolutely excluded from its management. Its members must respond to no influence except the call of duty. They must obey no orders except those given by their officers. They must be sure of their jobs as long as they do their duty intelligently and fearlessly. They must be convinced that promotion will come to them through merit, not through pull.

New Jersey's new state guardians begin their career under the best of auspices. Their future lies in their own hands. They join an honorable company, for the state constabularies have won splendid reputations for integrity, resourcefulness and courage.

OUR READERS

Bible in the Schools
Editor of The News:
I noticed in your columns that some women members of the W. C. T. U. are worrying about the Bible they wish to place in the public schools. I am sorry for those ladies that they have nothing to do since the country is dry. If anyone is in doubt go to Washington and look at the constitution. Ladies, why pick on the youngsters? The children now have about 57 varieties of lessons to torture them. Why not petition city council to pass an ordinance to compel the grownups to attend church under penalty? The Bible should be kept at the church or at home if you wish to have one. Keep religion out of the school. The Quaker, the Jew, the Catholic and other creeds all contribute to the noble institution, the public school.

CLOCK CURED OF TOOTHACHE

Dentist Carefully Inserts Two New Teeth and Few Rods in Immense London Timepiece.

The clock that hangs eight feet over the junction of the Strand and Fleet street, London, from the east tower of the law courts, has just recovered from an attack of toothache, London Times states.

The bells and the intricate mechanism occupy three stories at the top of the tower, and constant service year in and year out has caused the trouble.

When the dynamo which winds up the weights was put into gear recently there was a squeak from the winding apparatus, and a couple of teeth were wrenched from one of the essential cogs.

A clock dentist was immediately called in, and after careful treatment, involving two fresh teeth and the removal of a number of steel rods, the clock once more strikes the hour with unerring punctuality and has entirely recovered from the weakness developed during recent years.

The rods which have now been removed had not been touched since 1883, when the clock was first put up.

Few people in London, probably, know that in this clock at the courts they have a mechanism unique in the history of clock-making.

Invented by a carpenter on an entirely novel principle, it is the only one of its kind in existence, an attempt to make a duplicate for St. James palace having proved a failure.

It is so accurate that it does not lose as much as one minute in three months.

The weight controlling the striking mechanism weighs 1½ tons, and hangs on a wire 85 feet long from the top of the tower into the foundations.

SELF-RELIANCE GOES BANKRUPT

Thin Blood Saps Energy
Gude's Pepto-Mangan
Rebuilds the Blood

Wrestling with a weakened condition of the blood is a desperate struggle. Thin, watery blood deprives the body of energy and causes a played-out feeling not unlike utter exhaustion. A man with weak blood has not the full use of his powers. He lacks decision, and vacillates until he loses self-confidence.

Some men and women too, go floundering along for months scarcely realizing that they need Gude's Pepto-Mangan, the blood-builder. But when they have taken it for a while, what a difference there is in the feelings! The old-time vigor and the red-blooded hue of good health return. The new rich blood gets to work, building, fortifying, lifting the spirit up to its normal standard. Physicians have prescribed Gude's Pepto-Mangan for years as a blood-builder. Druggists sell it in liquid and tablet form. Look for the name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" on the package. Advertisement.

THEORY OF ORDINARY COLDS

Doctor Maxwell Expresses Opinion Trouble Is Due to Development of Bacterial Growth.

I have believed for some years that common colds are due primarily to the development of bacterial growths in the accessory nasal sinuses and that this development is caused by the obstruction of the drainage of these sinuses by the swelling of the nasal mucosa, writes Dr. G. M. Maxwell of Roanoke, Va. Swelling of the mucosa is due in turn to irritation from some foreign substance, such as dust, bacteria and pollen. The bacteria are those ordinarily found in the nasal cavity and cause trouble only when the free access of air into the field is prevented by the swollen mucosa. This opinion has been strengthened by the fact that continuous treatment or spraying with a mild nonirritant astringent will in the majority of cases arrest an acute cold. When a cold holds on for as much as a week I have nearly always found cloudiness in one or more of the sinuses, and get immediate relief by washing out these sinuses with a mild alkaline solution.

The Plum Pudding

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

Copyright, 1921, Western Newspaper Union.

MARIAN had never before cooked at all to speak of until she had married Bert that summer. She had made a great success of it, but she was a little nervous afterward when she realized that she had invited all of Bert's family and near relatives for a Christmas dinner. And that they had all accepted.

"Now Marian dear," Bert had said, "just have a simple dinner. Don't bother about the frills. Our ordinary Sunday dinner will do beautifully. Anyone who gets our usual Sunday dinner is getting a fine meal."

"Well, I guess that is about all I can do—and for so many, too," Marian said. "You're a wonder to attempt it," Bert said admiringly. "But don't think you have to overdo it."

For days and days Marian planned her Christmas dinner. She salted nuts, she made cranberry sauce. She ordered a fine young turkey. She wasn't nervous about the turkey—that was just about as easy as chicken.

Yes, she was planning to have the old-time Christmas dinner. She wouldn't tell Bert. She would surprise him. And then, if she did tell him, she might be more nervous about the things she had planned to do, feeling that he was going to be so proud of her that she couldn't fulfill his expectations of her success.

So she worked and planned and schemed. And that Christmas eve when Bert kissed her good-night she smiled to herself as she heard him say:

"Well, it's quite true. People have always eaten too much at Christmas time in past years."

Bert's family all arrived in due season for Christmas dinner.

"Well, were you nervous over your first turkey?" asked Aunt Editha. And how happy Marian was that she could say that she hadn't been nervous and that it was going to come out all right, she thought.

"I bet it was a job making your first plum pudding," said Uncle George, and Bert looked angry and grumpy. He didn't want anyone to make his Marian feel uncomfortable. And now his own family were doing it.

"Uncle George," Bert said, "we meant to tell you. We're not going to have one of those old-time dinners. We think that people have always felt stretched at Christmas, and after Christmas—indigestion and all. So we're just going to have a nice simple dinner."

Marian had left the room now. But she could hear the defending note in Bert's voice, and at the same time a note of sadness that their dinner was going to be so simple.

She wanted to rush in now and tell them all that it wouldn't be so simple and to put her arms around Bert's neck and kiss him. He was standing up for her. And they were all trying to be critical. And she had invited them all to her house. This was the way they were accepting her hospitality!

"But, following a number more similar remarks on how did she get along with her mince pie, and did she burn herself salting the nuts, she at last announced that dinner was quite ready."

Admiringly, increasingly admiringly, the guests ate and ate and ate. There was nothing that had ever been a part of a Christmas dinner that Marian did not have.

And Bert grew prouder and more boastful of her by the moment! How Bert loved to boast of what she could do!

At last came the dessert—mince pie and apple pie and plum pudding, too. How Bert's eyes opened wide with surprise when he saw the pudding.

"What did you mean when you said you were going to have a new kind of a dinner without any of the Christmas trimmings?" asked Uncle George.

"My wife likes surprises," Bert beamed. And after they had all gone, Bert said:

"They behaved atrociously, but oh! How proud I was of you. And Marian darling—"

"Yes, dear?"

"The plum pudding was the best that has ever been served at any Christmas dinner at any time I know."

"I think it was a success," Marian smiled.

REVIVE OLD TAX LAW PLAN FOR NEW PROGRAM

Columbus, Dec. 9.—In an effort to reach an agreement upon a proposal for a taxation amendment to the constitution, the special legislative committee today went back to the regime of Gov. Andrew L. Harris, starting its work with an amendment proposed in 1905.

The constitution, however, at that time provided a proposed amendment must be carried by a majority of those voting at the election and not by a majority of those voting on the proposal. As the proposal did not receive the required majority, it never became part of the organic law.

In starting with the old proposal, the committee has taken Gov. Harry L. Davis at his word, that the will call a special session if the committee agrees upon a reasonable program.

The Harris proposal permitted classification and provided in part that:

"The general assembly shall have power to establish and maintain an equitable system for raising state and local revenues. It may classify the subjects of taxation so far as their differences justify the same in order to secure a just return from each. All taxes and other charges shall be imposed for public purposes only and shall be just to each subject. The power of taxation shall never be surrendered, suspended or contracted away."

After discussion of this proposal, a sub-committee was appointed to prepare a number of proposals for submission to the main committee.

HIGH SCHOOL TOSSERS FACE HARD SCHEDULE; TWELVE GAMES BOOKED

Confronted with the huge task of developing a winning combination with only one letter man on this year's squad, Coach Vivian will issue his call to basketball candidates within a few days.

With Captain Siskowic the only regular Coach Vivian will attempt to build a team around him to cope with the hard schedule that has been arranged by Manager Smith.

There is plenty of material but it is untied. Some real floor stars may be uncovered and if so a large handicap will have to be met in the fact that hardly any of the players have played together.

The season will open Dec. 16 with the ex-highs and will end March 19 with Alliance here. Twelve games have been arranged, seven games at home and five abroad. The schedule follows:

Dec. 16—Ex-high.
Jan. 6—Minerva, here.
Jan. 13—Youngstown South, here.
Jan. 20—Wellsville, here.
Jan. 21—East Palestine, there.
Jan. 27—Warren, there.
Feb. 3—Alliance, there.
Feb. 11—Warren, here.
Feb. 18—Wellsville, there.
Feb. 24—East Palestine, here.
March 3—Minerva, there.
March 10—Alliance, here.

CHICAGO FIVE WANTS TO BOOK GAME HERE

The following letter addressed to the manager of a Salem basketball team has been forwarded to The News by G. G. Ruys, 702 W. 31st at Chicago, manager of the Cyrillus Athletic & Aid associations of that city.

"The Chicago Cyrillus, independent champs, Cook county, Illinois, and claimants of the state title season 1921-1922, are arranging an eastern schedule, with the 'very best' teams as the Coffee Club Five, of Pittsburg, and the Greenville Collegians of Greenville, Pa.

"I would like to arrange a game with the club of this city, on Jan. 19, 1922, if you can arrange a game for my team. I will be pleased to hear from you at your earliest convenience, stating your terms, and the guarantee I can expect.

"An early reply will be greatly appreciated."

On the second eleven Siskowic, Alexander, Bunn, and Liber are mentioned.

Alliance Eagles and Sebring Tigers will meet in a post-season game Sunday afternoon at Sebring. If the Eagles win they will play Alliance at Hills for the city championship.

The Goat Hills of Alliance and Northside Greys of East Liverpool will clash on the gridiron Sunday afternoon at East Liverpool.

Too Bad.

An ardent angler took a friend fishing. He knew nothing about the gentle art, but was set up with all the necessary tackle and a nice, comfortable seat on the bank.

The experienced hand started fishing a few yards higher up the stream.

Presently the novice said: "How much do those red things cost?"

"I suppose you mean the float?" said the angler. "That only costs about twopenny."

"Well, I owe you twopenny," said the novice. "The one you lent me has sunk."—London Tit-Bits.

Our Christmas Day

THERE is an innate perception among men and women that Christmas day ought to be the happiest in the year. It is doubtful if they ever attempt to analyze their own half-formed ideas on the subject, but it is only necessary to turn to the writings of those who have been most solicitous for the well-being of their fellow men to see that this is the case. Look, for instance, at Washington Irving telling, in "Bracebridge Hall," the story of a good old-fashioned Christmas according to the flesh, a picture that was to express his ideal of "on earth peace, good will toward men." Or turn to the greatest of all the chroniclers of Christmas, Charles Dickens, the man who in his many pictures, from that of Dingley Dell to that of Scrooge's bedroom, sought to make Christmas a season of good deeds and of good cheer. "Blessings on your kind heart!" Jeffrey wrote to him, on the publication of the "Christmas Carol." You should be happy yourself, for you may be sure you have done more good by this little publication, fostered more kindly feelings and prompted more positive acts to beneficence than can be traced to all the pulpits and confessionals in Christendom since Christmas, 1842." After that, read the accounts of how they actually kept Christmas at Bracebridge Hall and Dingley Dell; contrast it with the marvelous story, told by Luke, "the beloved physician," of that first Christmas day in Nazareth.—Christian Science Monitor.

CLEVER STUDIES OF EMINENT MEN

EDWARD G. LOWRY, CAPITAL COR-RESPONDENT, MAKES HIT IN "WASHINGTON CLOSE-UPS."

GOOD SUBJECTS FOR HIS PEN

Virtues, Fraillies and Faults of National Characters Are Exposed With Gentle Irony, Rich Humor and Unfailing Wisdom.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—More than occasionally it is wondered if Washington correspondents do not stick so close to the news of things that the shadows thereof blanket the side lights of the personalities of the officials of government whose lives and endeavors, methods and manners must have an interest for their fellow citizens.

It is a bromide to say that familarity breeds contempt. Washington correspondents necessarily daily are in contact with the great and the near-great of the land. Familiarity of this kind does not breed contempt, save in some instances, but it does lead correspondents to think that what is a common every-day thing, and which to them necessarily has lost its novelty, cannot have any particular appeal to the reading public at a distance.

Every time that one picks up a human document written about men in Washington, he has a change of thought on the subject of the advantage of showing forth the frailties, follies, faults, virtues, and occasional scintillations of the men whom he meets in their daily walks and daily works.

Edward G. Lowry is one of the keenest students of mankind among the Washington correspondents. I write about Lowry, as one might say if he chose to get away from the paths of English, con amore, for he not only has been my friend for many years,
but for a long time was my office mate.
He has written a book called "Washington Close-Ups," and the query of all correspondents, myself included, is,
"Why didn't we think of writing something like this?" Confessionally, the great majority of us probably could not have written anything nearly so good, nor so appealing, but the thought nevertheless is, "We ought to have tried something like that."

Worthy Subjects of Study.

Every day through the years Washington correspondents meet the cabinet officers, the greater soldiers and sailors, the senators and the representatives in one or other of the offices or the halls of—shall we call them state? The intercourse shows the correspondents just why the men whom they meet and greet have been elected, or chosen to high place, or perchance it creates amazement that they have been so elected or chosen.
These men are good subjects for study, for entirely proper praise, for entirely proper humor, and more than once in a while for the ironical suggestion or the mental query, "Why are they here?"

Pope said that the proper study of mankind is man. It seems to me that Edward G. Lowry took this saying of Pope into lasting keeping the moment that he arrived in Washington. He has studied through all the years the men worthy and unworthy in high place, who have come to this capital of ours in one official calling or another.

Some Apt Characterizations.

In Mr. Lowry's latest study of Capital city mankind, "Washington Closeups," he calls President Harding "The Great Emollient." Those of us who have twice weekly access to the Presidential presence know how true and how delightful this characterization is of the kindly President, with his always sympathetic desire to do well by his country and to deal always pleasantly with its people.

Every Washington correspondent realizes that Calvin Coolidge, the vice-president, is a reticent and a deliberative man. Why did not any of us think, as Lowry did, of calling him
"The Foster Child of Silence?" Or why did we not think, with Calvin's deliberative ways in mind, of writing of him not only as the foster child of silence, but as Mr. Lowry also has done, as "the Foster Child of Slow Time?"

When Will H. Hays, postmaster general of the United States, is called "A Human Flivver," and a 100 per cent American, "as indigenous as sausages root," we get a picture of Mr.
Hays as he is. "He is one of us. He is folks."

Rear Admiral William S. Sims once on a time wore side-whiskers, although, as Mr. Lowry, in his study of Sims, says: "This may seem incredible." Then we get this, to me, entirely delightful bit:

"They were a lapse of his youth, of the period in the late seventies, of the time of Rutherford B. Hayes, when hair and the human face were in the last phase of their great battle to determine which should survive."

In this Washington correspondent's book about "Bob the Battler" (La Follette), the "Beau Sabreur" (Pershing, "A Herald With Trumpet" (Johnson), "Our Lone Fox-Consul" (Wood), and many others, one learns where men fall short of, as well as where they measure up to, American standards.

at her home in Columbia st her feet slipped on the ice. In the fall her head struck the corner of the stone step inflicting a cut to the bone. A physician was called and it required several stitches to close the wound.
Concussion of the brain was feared,
but these symptoms have disappeared.

"I'm feeling like a new man since Tanlac soothed and toned up my stomach and for the first time in forty years can eat a hearty meal and suffer no distress afterwards," was the remarkable statement of Patrick J.
Haley, 107 Prospect Ave., Syracuse, N. Y., a well-known iron and steel worker.

"Only those who have had stomach trouble in a bad form can know what I suffered during all those years. I was almost a nervous wreck, too, and for years I didn't know what it was to get a good sound sleep at night."

"I got new life and energy from each dose of Tanlac and now I'm a well and happy man instead of a sick and miserable one as I was for so many years. I'll vouch for the merit of Tanlac at any time."

Tanlac is sold in Salem by The J.
H. Lease Drug Co., Bolger & French, Floding's drug store, and by all leading druggists.

State Department Accepts Austrian Envoy.

Edgar A. G. Prochnik, new Austrian charge d'affaires in Washington, photographed at the capitol, where he is preparing to take up his new duties. The state department has approved of his selection, and his credentials are now enroute from Vienna. Mr. Prochnik has been in this country for several weeks.

Unimpeachable—If you were to see the unequalled volume of unimpeachable testimony in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla, you would uphold yourself for so long delaying to take this effective medicine for that blood disease from which you are suffering.

Smallpox Cases In County Increase; Vaccination Urged

"The presence of an epidemic of great proportions in any part of the country should put people in general on their guard against the possible spread of the disease to other localities," says a statement issued by health authorities.

"News reports recently told of the epidemic of smallpox that is raging at present in Kansas City, the deaths from the disease there totalling 190 since September. This figure necessarily represents an enormous number of cases and it is possible that cases may spread from this point to other parts of the country.

"In our own county we have a potential source of danger when we realize that there have been some 50 cases of smallpox in Wellsville recently.

"These outbreaks should serve as an emphatic warning to those communities where there are, at present, no cases. This warning should be heeded to the extent that those persons not protected against smallpox should at once be vaccinated. Smallpox is one disease which can offer no excuse for its existence. The person suffering from smallpox has no one to blame but himself for there is a way of positively preventing it.

"This view is held so firmly in some of the largest cities that it has been suggested by some of the leading health authorities there, that no quarantine should be instituted in cases of smallpox as the possibility of an individual contracting the disease rested entirely with himself, even though exposed to an active case.

"Such procedure seems, perhaps rather radical at this time but it proves the absolute dependence placed upon the protective value of vaccination against smallpox.

"There is still an inherent objection to vaccination in the minds of some people. Whether this is due to the fact that vaccination as conducted years ago, was oftentimes the source of considerable trouble or to the preaching of those opposed to vaccination for other reasons, is not evident, but the right thinking person cannot refute the figures which demonstrate the absolute value of vaccination as a preventive against smallpox.

"A movement for more general vaccination may save our own city much suffering and sorrow later."

EPSOM SALTS LIKE GLASS OF LEMONADE

If you want epsom salts without the awful taste and nausea, ask your druggist for a handy package of "Epsomade Salts" which looks and acts exactly like epsom salts, because it is real epsom salts combined with fruit derivative salts, giving it the taste of sparkling lemonade.

Take a tablespoonful in a glass of cold water whenever you feel bilious, headachy or constipated. "Epsomade Salts" is the much talked of discovery of the American Epsom Association.

JUDGE ADMITS LIQUOR CASE ON ERROR APPEAL

Judge J. G. Moore has granted leave to John Donahue of Wellsville to carry his grievances up to the common pleas court on error from Mayor Ingram's court. Donahue had been arrested and fined for violation of the liquor laws, and set up the claim that chemists had shown that the stuff he was making was less than one-half of one per cent alcoholic. The authorities claim that their chemist made it better than three per cent. On the alcoholic content question, Judge Moore allowed the petition in error to be filed.

The other cases in which petitions in error were requested, were refused. They were cases against Gale McVigh and Mary Flower. Their allegations were for keeping immoral places and Judge Moore said that this was purely a matter of the municipal court.

For the writing desk or as a companion piece to the guest book, a pen with a feather quill for a handle makes a beautiful gift. ## MAKE MERRY ON CHRISTMAS

Calabrian Minstrels of Rome, With Silvan Pipes, Started Celebration Ten Days in Advance.

CHRISTMAS used to be celebrated in Rome by the arrival of Calabrian minstrels with their silvan pipes ten days before Christmas. In every street of the historic city they would play their wild, plaintive music before the shrines of the Madonna. These minstrels or "pifferari," as they were called, became rare after the latter part of the Nineteenth century. In Sicily men came down from the mountains nine days before Christmas to sing a "novena" to a plaintive melody accompanied by violin and cello.

The music of chiming bells features Christmas the world over. In the Philippines the dawn of Christmas is ushered in by ringing of bells in scores of church towers, calling the people to service. In the dark they flock to the churches to the familiar notes of the "Adeste Fideles."

The music-loving world agrees with the stranger in Bracebridge hall, "I do not know a grander effect of music on the moral feelings than to hear the full choir and the pealing organ performing a Christmas anthem in a cathedral and filling every part of the vast pile with triumphant harmony."

Fadeless Flowers

Flowers made of petals cut from paper tape and coated with colored sealing wax, are among the novelties that add to the cheerfulness of home and Christmas this year. A cluster of them in several different colors, in a vase that is also coated with the wax, makes a very pleasing bouquet for the living room or dining table. The colored wax is a substitute for paint and a small alcohol flame becomes the brush for making the fadeless blossoms.

Snow on Subway Tracks.
It is possible many of our readers have wondered at the appearance of the tracks at the subway stations in New York city, says the Scientific American. There is usually a realistic Christmas snow on the tracks, but the Interborough company has a method in this artificial snow system. The rounded around each station is spread with calcium chloride, which has a peculiar property of drawing moisture out of the air and turning gradually from a white powder into drops of liquid, which remain in this condition for months. This serves to hold the dust and bacteria like the sprinkling of a dusty street. The hurrying of trains through the stations has little or no effect on this deposit.

Rather!

The young man had just been accepted. In his rapture he exclaimed: "But do you think, my love, I am good enough for you?" His wife-to-be looked sternly at him for a moment, and replied: "Good enough for me. You've got to be."

Suggestive Pet Name.
"Guess I'll have to stop calling my wife 'Toots'."
"Why so?"
"It always reminds her that she wants an automobile."

Salem Jersey Makes Second Highest Record For State

This is Gambo's Starfish Maid, two firsts at Canfield and one at Lisbon fairs.

Her inherent productive capacity is indicated by the fact that she was "going strong" at the finish of her year's test. In the tenth month she made 44 pounds of fat, in the eleventh 38.5 pounds and in the twelfth 41 pounds. The picture was taken at the Lisbon fair just after she had been milked out. Her eleventh month record was taken just after attending the two fairs.

She is owned by Bates & Kridler and at their farm just north of Salem received only ordinary farm care during the test period and was milked but twice a day. Her owners are convinced that with three milkings and a little more "pushing" she would easily have beaten the state fat record of 479.44 pounds held by Lucy's Viola May. The latter cow began her test at one year and six months and produced 9,779 pounds of milk, which was of considerably lower fat content as indicated by the fat record.

Gambo's Starfish Maid was sired by Gambo's Knight's Prince 109,544, head of the Bates & Kridler herd and a three time first prize exhibition animal, having been awarded

PHONOGRAPH-COMPARISON CARD

How to score:
The original performance of the living artist is the standard by which all reproductions must be judged.
Comparison Number 1 and Comparison Number 2 are mental comparisons with the original performance of living artists. Listen to the music, giving yourself complete attention to its effect.
Mark an "X" for the phonograph which best succeeds in producing the effect indicated.
Comparison Number 3 to 7, inclusive, are direct comparisons between the various kinds of voice or instrument. That is, which phonograph gives the most realistic impression of the living artist? Listen to the living artist himself. If two phonographs seem to be equal, give both an "X".
At the conclusion of the comparison, total the number of "X" credits you have given each phonograph.

DR. W. V. BINGHAM, eminent research scientist, made a scientific comparison between four prominent phonographs. He wanted to determine which was the best. The Phonograph Comparison Card, above, shows the result. Phonograph Number 4 made a clean sweep of all 9 tests. That phonograph was

The NEW EDISON

This marvelous victory is easily explained. The New Edison is the only phonograph which has proved there is no difference between its RE-CREATIONS of music and the original music. But, if you wish to reassure yourself completely,—do what Dr. Bingham did. Listen to Frieda Hempel, as she sounds on the ordinary phonograph; then hear the New Edison RE-CREATE her voice. Compare, in the same way, with other artists who have made both Edison RE-CREATIONS and talking-machine records. Score each result,—on a Phonograph Comparison Card. You will discover that Miss Hempel is indeed Miss Hempel on the New Edison, while on the talking-machine, she is something entirely different. The New Edison, because of its perfect realism, brings you the true beauties of every kind of vocal or instrumental music. Compare, compare, compare! ### SCRAPS IN HOUSE ARE NOT SERIOUS

MIX-UP SOMETIMES CANNOT BE PREVENTED, BUT APOLOGIES
ALWAYS FOLLOW.

OTHERS USUALLY INTERVENE

One Representative Narrowly Escapes
Expulsion for Inserting Obscene Matter in the Congressional Record
Under "Leave to Print."

Washington.—A few days ago while the house of representatives was in session, one member called another a liar, and the other retorted in kind,
and it was all several extremely active colleagues could do to keep the two irritated exchangers of compliments from making a Dempsey-Carpentier affair of it.

Such scenes in the house of representatives are not common, but once in a while they occur, and also once in a while the interveners are not agile enough to prevent a mix-up. So far as the memory of 18 years goes, every one of these affairs has been followed by an apology from each member involved, and by a promise that nothing of the kind would occur again. In these cases the house smiles, settles down but knows full well that some day things again will happen.

The house and senate have full control over their members. Each body can expel a man if it so desires. Expulsion rarely has been resorted to, however. It was believed for a time that the extreme penalty would be invoked the other day when a member inserted, under "leave to print," some vulgar and obscene matter in the Congressional Record. For the first time in history the Congressional Record, after the matter was discovered, was deleted transit through the United States mails. Congress saw its official organ placed under the ban of the postmaster general.

Fordney Could Protect Himself.
Representative Joseph W. Fordney, who is the chairman of the house committee on ways and means, not long ago engaged in an exchange of compliments with a member on the other side of the house. The general opinion seemed to be that Mr. Fordney was blameless in the matter, and it is for this reason that his name is used while the name of the other person engaged is omitted.

The thing which made this little near-fracas between the ways and means chairman and his fellow member particularly interesting was the fact that a number of members of the house intervened in behalf of Mr.
Fordney, while saying something to the effect that the other member had no right to attack or threaten to attack a man of Mr. Fordney's years.

It is true that the Michigan representative is well along in the years of his life, but there are some members of the press galleries and probably of congress with memories long enough to remember that the ways and means chairman once on a time was a lumberjack in the Michigan forests, and that, although many years have passed, he still has every appearance of being that kind of a husky who knows how to take care of himself.

Bird Was Ready to Fight.
In the days when the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill was up for consideration in the house, a representative named Bird, who was a husky on his own account, had something to say on the lumber schedule of the tariff bill, and before he got through he had some particularly sharp personal things to say, and if memory is not at fault, he gave "the lie direct."

On that day some eight or ten members of the house of representatives had about all they could do to keep apart the two principals in the discussion. One of the contestants, Mr. Bird, in fact, shed his coat as he started down the aisle to get at the stolidly awaiting one who was showing no sense at all of perturbation. This thing ended in an apology by the offending member—and so it goes, always.

In the senate troubles of a personal physical nature are not so apt to happen as they are in the house. Why?
Not because the senators are any more dignified than the members of the house, but simply because there are not so many senators as there are representatives. It should be said right here, lest criticisms of the writing of such little reminiscences as these should come, that the few encounters or near-encounters, which have occurred in the house or the senate have been scattered through a great many years. The two houses, ordinarily speaking, are as peaceful and as dignified as the most placid Quaker meeting.

An Albino Rattlesnake.

R. M. Smith and his son, Robert, of Sheffield, Mass., with a forked stick captured alive at Black Rock, Mount Washington, Mass., a white rattlesnake which has been shipped to Raymond L. Ditmars, curator of the New York zoological park. Mr. Ditmars saw this snake last year when rattlesnake hunting on the mountain, but it got away from him. The rattler is two feet long and has two rattles and a button. Its eyes are pink, and its skin is dotted with pink spots. The specimen is said to be the only one of its kind in existence.

COBB PLANS CHANGES IN DETROIT LINEUP

Los Angeles Dec. 9.—Ty Cobb, manager of the Detroit club of the American League is said by Pacific coast friends to be planning a number of changes in the personnel of the Tigers for next season.

An attractive offer is said to have been made by Cobb for Third Baseman Schopfer of Louisville. If he is obtained he is expected to be switched to second base in the Tigers' lineup.

It is understood Cobb offered Pitcher Howard Ehmke to the Yanks
in exchange for Shortstop Johnny Mitchell and that this deal may go through when Cobb reaches the east.

Two feet deep of snow. Why, it's a regular Christmas gift for me!" observed Rolfe Darlon hopefully, as he awoke from a night of profound slumber and glanced out through the street window of the chill bleak lodging house where he was one of wanderers who had no other home.

As he descended to the well-heated office room of the institution he paid little attention to the lounging crowd of idle and battered men. He paused only to address an old man with a pair of crutches by his side. He slapped him in a friendly, familiar way on the shoulder.

"If I can only get a snow shovel," he observed, "I will see to it that your meals and lodging are well provided for over Christmas."

"Bless you, my friend!" murmured the other gratefully. "You have been very kind to me," and Darlon left him with a genial good-by and started forth for a day of hard, earnest work.

Darlon was passing some cottages adjoining one another when the door of the nearest one was opened and a pleasant faced lady beckoned to him.

"You look as if you were seeking work," she said. Would you clean off this sidewalk and a path to the coal shed for half a dollar?"

By the end of an hour he had his task completed.

"You must come in and share our lunch, if you will," invited the young lady. Chancing to glance through the window he noticed in the next yard a

PLAN FARMSTEADS AS COMMUNITY EXAMPLES

Model farm homes have been planned by rural architects of the Ohio State university for two Trumbull county farmers, which farmers have agreed to build according to plan, and then to have all of their neighbors in for a community housewarming.

The houses to be built are of the six or seven-room semi-bungalow type, with simple lines. They are to be erected on the George Scott and Tom Fell farms and will serve as a standing demonstration of what a modern farm should be.

Recently a barn, planned by like arrangement on a Jackson county farm, was opened with a community barnwarming. The modern type of loft, without uprighs from the floor, made a fine floor 30 by 130 feet for the old-time country dances.

Springing Free of the Roof.

young girl battling with the heavy snow with a frail broom.

"She doesn't make much progress," he observed to his hostess. "If you will lend me your shovel I will soon clear a path around the house for her."

He lifted his cap politely, explaining his purpose. Alice Brill, young, frail, grateful, bestowed a winning smile upon the friend in need. She announced frankly that they could not afford to pay for the service offered.

"You needn't worry about that," he declared lightly. "It will make me feel the better for doing a little act of kindness, so near to Christmas."

Darlon regarded Alice Brill with more than ordinary interest. He had heard the girl and her father in the next house discussing their neighbor. It seems that the father of Alice had sold some store property in the town for over four thousand dollars, representing about all he had in the world.

He had hidden it in his bedroom, some one forced open the window and Brill awoke next morning to find his little fortune gone.

Darlon worked sturdily at sidewalk and garden paths and had pretty nearly completed his task when Alice came out on the rear step.

"I wonder if it would be too much to ask you to get the ladder and climb up to the kitchen roof and push off the massed snow there."

Darlon was only too glad to grant the request. He was pushing the last shovel of snow over the eave troughs when he startled Alice, who had come out again to watch the progress of his work, by springing free of the roof, waving a dark object in his hand.

"I found it lodged in the gutter spout, where it must have fallen from the hand of the thief," he announced breathlessly. "It is a pocketbook filled with money."

Just that it was, and Rolfe Darlon, a welcome spectator to the wild delight of the Brills, lingered long in the house, blessed by the gratitude of Mr. Brill and his beautiful daughter. What more natural than that they should invite this cherished guest to Christmas dinner, for a royal one they were sure of now, but Darlon surprised them and congratulated himself in appearing neat, trim and in a new suit, for at the lodging house that evening he found an unexpected letter from his estranged uncle containing a liberal remittance and asking him to return to the home roof and forget that they had ever quarreled.

Merry Christmas, indeed it was for that little group, and when Rolfe Darlon bade Alice Brill good night after a day of rare enjoyment and happiness, he wondered if the ardent hope of his soul might become a reality before another yuletide celebration in his winning of a Christmas bride.
